

Coco 04

Larose Guyon

Coco is a tribute to Gabrielle Chanel, famously known as Coco Chanel. In the 1930s, she became the first woman to launch a fine jewellery collection. Chanel never left home without her pearls – she used them not only as jewellery, but as accents sewn into her light, diaphanous evening gowns.

Coco by Larose Guyon evokes that supple, elegant and wondrous intersection of jewellery and light. Like a string of pearls, this lamp's 10 hand-blown glass globes can be arranged in several configurations to adapt to the setting where it will be admired. The finishing touch for this luminous gem is a counterweight and hook that can be added or moved from one "pearl" to another, providing all the flexibility needed for the lamp to fit its space to perfection.

Entirely handmade by local artisans, its artistic approach makes Coco a piece of lighting art.
