

Copper Oil

Temple

A nod to the painters whose extravagant use of materials create a densely textured and colored landscape of drips, streaks and pools of oil paint, heavily applied on thin canvas, built up in thick layers over time and dried into a field of details and layers. COPPER OIL is so rich that one can't help but touch.

Hand knotted in Nepal.

Starting at:

Custom sizing available (with or without ravines)

twentieth