

Dwell Modular

Ross Gardam

Dwell is a sophisticated modular lounging collection designed for flexibility, comfort, and architectural simplicity. Built on a refined rail system, Dwell offers a sculptural foundation for both relaxed and formal environments, enabling a wide range of configurations for public, commercial and residential settings.

Every element has been crafted to foster connection and conversation, while also offering the flexibility to support moments of quiet focus and individual work. Interaction from every angle ensures that Dwell integrates seamlessly into a wide variety of interiors.
