

Noon Modular – Lounge

Ross Gardam

The Noon Lounge is a modular collection of upholstered products, which softly arc at the edges. Noon's arm sits elegantly in place, allowing the cushion to flow over the arc, imbuing the lounging experience with an extra level of comfort and softness.

Tension is created in the product between the intricate stitching detail on the inner and outer surface, which run in parallel, framing the lounge's design. Noon is designed for residential spaces and is equally at home in commercial space creating a unique, vibrant personality.

The Noon lounge is available as a single armed unit. By placing the single arm unit against the full arm unit, an L shape is produced. See diagram below for more information.
