

Place Lounge

Ross Gardam

Place reimagines our sense of space. At the heart of the collection is the significance of togetherness in our experiential understanding of our everyday interactions. Through years of experimentation and problem solving, Place offers an intuitive solution to the evolving workplace. Drawing inspiration from past collections, this lounging system offers the most functional, modular platform to connect, experience and create with one another in an elegantly curved silhouette.

Designed with a range of different modules, the Place Lounge has the ability to connect pieces together by dropping and zipping them to one another.

Lounge's detailed set of modular configurations support any interior landscape, enabling a creative environment which is intelligent, agile and endlessly intuitive.
