

Salt Point

Temple Rugs

SALT POINT began as a series of photographs of perhaps the most otherworldly beach in California, about three hours north of San Francisco. The rock formations at the Salt Point beach are unlike any others along the coast and the inspiration there is unending. Craters, cracks, large planes of sandy rocks and sculptural formations that look straight out of Antoni Gaudí's imagination.

Hand-knotted in Nepal

Starting at:

Custom sizing available

twentieth