

Tibur Lounge

Paolo Ferrari

The Tibur Collection is quietly monumental and sculptural, carved from unfilled Italian Travertine block. This collection was inspired by the desire to create a work that emanates permanence and solidity. Named for the Latin translation for modern day Tivoli, the city where Italian Travertine originates, the Tibur collection expresses the inherent longevity of architecture and celebrates the craft and tradition of stone carving, resulting in a collection that will live through generations. Honouring the tradition of the past and signifying the creativity of a forward-looking design approach. Its material allows for a multi-purpose function that can live both indoor and outdoor. Its smooth and tactile form exudes restraint, longevity and permanence, while also balancing elements of timelessness and innovation and craft.
